

Orangeburg County – Nix-Stilton Community Center & County Marketing

Nix-Stilton

Orangeburg County is a persistent poverty County with an aging population. The funding requested will fulfill the need for facilities that cater to seniors as well as the community. This new senior/community facility will provide outreach programs for the community such as senior feeding, senior activities, and senior educational classes and other community program activities.

Orangeburg County Marketing

The marketing and advertising of community events and opportunities with local market print and video will allow residents and visitors to be informed about the amenities and resources available in the County. Programs are being offered to keep communities abreast of opportunities. The advertisement of events will increase community engagement and participation, thus instilling and building pride in Orangeburg County that can be shared amongst others.
